

Prophetic word from January 19th given by Nancy Campbell

I believe the spirit of the Lord would speak and say, "Even as I have repositioned you and rearranged your Landscape, now I am bringing alignment, says the spirit of God. For you need to be aligned with me that you can thrust forward as I am thrusting you forward in this new year.

You need the presence and the power of My spirit. So, allow yourselves to be aligned with Me this day; align your priorities; align the things you are going to do this day with Me so that you may be walking in My places And My plans that I have for you. For the hour is imminent says the spirit of God; there is no time to waste.

You need to align today. So, give Me your thoughts; give Me your plans for the year and see If they align with Me and if they don't rearrange your plans so that they align with Me, says the spirit of God.

I am here, today, to align you. Receive My alignment, says the spirit of God."
