During worship I saw this knot tied, and I felt like the Lord was untying the knot. I saw the knot just being loosed and I believe the Lord is loosing His glory upon the earth right now.

“I would say to you, sons and daughters, be aware of what I am doing and do not look at things in the way that you would see them because it truly is a time where things are not as they seem. Yet, I am moving! I am moving, and I have had about enough of the injustice that is going on in this country, the ungodliness and I am exposing it right and left, right now, says the spirit of God.

The knot that you saw being loosed is My spirit unloosing things that have been tied up for generations. Generational strongholds are coming down right now, says the spirit of God. Know this, be aware of it, look for it. Don't be afraid to speak when you see it.

Also, sons and daughters, do not judge people by what they look like because, again, I am drawing unbelievers in right now. Some of those people I am drawing in I am going to use at this time to push the darkness back. I am going to use those who are being saved to push the darkness back and they are going to come into the kingdom and they are going to run as soon as they get saved!

So, do not doubt, do not look at things as they appear, they are not as they appear! Even ones that have recently been saved, I am using them right now. They are walking in faith. Do not discourage them, encourage them. This is a new generation being raised up, a new generation of believers. It is the time, sons and daughters, open your eyes and see.

Also, it is the season, as Joel prophesied, that your sons and daughters shall prophecy. Encourage your children. Do not doubt when your children come to you and they pull on your apron strings and on your coattails and say, 'Mom, Dad, I feel like this is happening.' Listen to them! I am going to speak through the children, even in this day, even in this hour! So, listen to what they are saying.

They may be running around like crazy and you may think they don't know what they are talking about, they do. They are My children, they know Me and I speak through them.

So, when they give you a warning, they say 'I feel like this is happening; I don't like this person, something is going on.' Pay attention! It is Me!

For as the prophet Joel spoke: “your sons and daughters shall prophecy”. This is the hour, this is the time. Embrace it; know it; be encouraged, I am on the move, says the spirit of God.
