

PROPHECY FROM FEBRUARY 20, 2022.

Given by Nancy Campbell

I believe the spirit of the Lord would speak and say,

“It is a season to reap the harvest; not only the harvest of souls but the harvest of fruit. The things you have prayed for ,for years, are going to come into fruition in this season.

So, do not lose heart in this season of opposition for know that I have turned the tide and it is continuing to turn and I am going to bring forth fruit. So reap the fruit. Mountains in your lives, mountains that you have been dealing with for years are going to fall! They are going to fall this year, says the spirit of God. Because I am reaping fruit now by My spirit.

Do not be discouraged by all that is going on. I tell you,if you even lift a finger, one finger, against the enemy, he will fall over backwards right now because that is what My spirit is doing.

So, do not fear. Challenge the darkness, I say challenge it and it will fall before you! I am about bringing victory in this season and you will see it. You will see it manifest here in your midst, here in your lives.

Do not forget who I have called you to be. I have chosen you as a sanctuary. Do not forget what . you are called. You are one of the houses of sanctuary that I have called and I am going to do a mighty work here. And not only here but everywhere you go out from here. My spirit will go with you.

Just open your mouth when I tell you to speak. Do not fear whatever things have been put forth in front of you for it is the enemy trying to hassle and harass you and to keep you from doing what I am telling you to do.
I tell you that even if you lift your little finger against him, he will fall over backwards because My power and My might are with you!

It is a season of victory, says the spirit of God! Victory! Victory! Victory!
