

PROPHECY FROM DECEMBER 6, 2020 by NANCY CAMPBELL

I believe the spirit of the Lord would speak and say, "Fear not, my sons and daughters, fear not the things that are upon this land.

As I told you before, it is not My time yet. This is the enemy stirring things up to cause controversy and to sow discord in the land.

But, you, My sons and daughters, you are called of Me. You are my army, so fear not.

Remember this is a skirmish, a skirmish as I have reminded you before and I remind you again. This is not the war, this is a skirmish.

Yes, you are in a war, but it's a skirmish, a battle within the war not the actual war!

So, know this and do not fear and step into the things I am calling you to do. For this coming year is going to be full of opportunities for My body.

Step in to the opportunity. Go after the opportunity. Step out in faith and My harvest will be reaped!

You need to be in the position that I am calling you in to. Many of you are not there right now but I am calling you into position.

I am opening doors that no man can shut, no matter what they believe. If I open a door, you need to go through it and not fear.

Just take a step and I will open other things before you. I will present many opportunities and many will be won to Christ because they will see My light shining out of you in the face of darkness.

Yes, there is great darkness on the land but I am on the move and you will see it greater in the coming year.

So be bold, be confident, fear not. This is just a skirmish.
