

PROPHECY FROM SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 2020. GIVEN BY NANCY CAMPBELL

“During worship, I saw a road and it was lit with lights on both sides and was impossible to miss.”

I believe the spirit of the Lord would speak and say, my sons and daughters, I love you and I have provided a way for you, says the spirit of God. Look not to the right or to the left, but look to Me, look to Me and find that highway of holiness that I have for you. It's My highway, the highway of holiness, and the unredeemed shall not pass over it. It is the highway for My people, says the spirit of God.

In this season that you are in, great change is coming; great change is coming! But, fear not my sons and daughters for I have provided a path for each one of you. You need to tune your ears to Me, more than ever before, you need to hear from Me. For, I have a path for each one of you if you listen to Me and ask of Me, I will show you that highway. I will show you the way in the midst of the darkness and I will keep you, for you are mine and I love you. You are My sheep and I desire to guide you into the green pastures and to lead you beside the still waters.

So, fear not! Yes, great change is coming. I tell you today, great change is coming but fear not, fear not! Listen to Me and be where I am telling you to go. And if I am telling you to go, Go. Don't even think twice, go! When I say go, Go and if I say stay, Stay!

It is the season to be led of My spirit. Do not miss what I am saying.

Yes, there are many things happening right now, and many causes you can align yourself with; but, do not go there unless I tell You to go there.

For I have a plan and a purpose for each one of you.

Know your calling, know who you are and walk in that. And so you will find peace in the midst of chaos.

You will find purpose in the midst of darkness and My light will shine through you and many will be drawn to Me, says the spirit of God.
