

PROPHECY FROM JANUARY 17, 2021

GIVEN BY NANCY CAMPBELL

I believe the spirit of the Lord would speak and say, "I am calling you out my people; I am calling you out! Are you ready to go? Are you ready to put down your idols, to put down what you think I am doing, and look to Me?

For, I am ready to move on those who are yielded to My Spirit, not yielded to what everybody else is saying, yielded to what I am doing, says the spirit of God, because I am moving! This is not a season of defeat! It is a season of victory and I am moving!

So do not give place to what is being put forth by the media, by others, even believers . Humble yourselves under My mighty hand that I might raise you up.

I am looking for those who have their eyes upon Me; that are not moved by the multitudes; that are not moved by what the media is saying but are listening to Me. For I have a harvest to reap and the harvest that I have to reap may not be what you are seeking, says the spirit of God.

Yield to Me, yield to Me; repent, repent and yield to Me that I might heal your nation. It requires humility. It requires repentance.

It does not require violence. It does not require trying to do everything in your own power to get what you believe I am doing. You know not what I am doing, says the spirit of God, because I AM MOVING!!!

This is a time to move in the presence of God. I tell you this day, if you try to move in your own flesh in this season, you will not succeed. My spirit is moving and my eyes are looking to and fro across the earth to see who is truly yielded to Me.

Who will preach the gospel to that person, maybe in a corner, who everyone else has condemned? I am after their heart. And another person who maybe does not believe the way you do. I am after their heart.

My heart is the harvest. Focus your eyes on the harvest and winning people to me. Quit choosing sides! This is not fruitful! It is not pleasing to Me, says the spirit of God. Yield to Me and repent!

For I am moving, and the greatest harvest ever seen is about to come and if you are not looking in the right place, you will miss it, says the spirit of God.

Are you ready? Are you willing to go where you don't want to go? To speak to those you don't want to speak to if I called you to do it?

Open your hearts; lay down the motives you've taken up, the idolatry, the movements you've joined. Look to Me. I am God and no one else is going to save people other than Me. No one else is going to save America other than Me.

So, yield to Me this day. Are you willing to go where I tell you to go? Are you willing to be persecuted for Me, for My Name?

Yield to Me, says the spirit of God. I am looking for those who are yielded to My spirit and willing. I will move upon them and use them and those who are speaking out against others, I will disdain and I will not use them, says the spirit of God. "
